DRAMA

THE KNOLL HOUSE PLAY: ROPE

Thursday 20 and Friday 21 May
7.30pm – Ryan Theatre

1929. Two young men murder a fellow Oxford student just for the fun of it. Based on a real case, this dark classic presents a chilling anatomy of an apparently motiveless murder, and a brilliant snapshot of a jazz-age generation. Will the pair get away with their cat and mouse games? One of the guests at their party is starting to become suspicious... This tightly coiled thriller by Patrick Hamilton, famously later a Hitchcock film, is directed by Adam Cross. Not suitable for young children.

THE JUNIOR RATTIGAN SOCIETY
PRODUCTION: A MIDSUMMER NIGHT’S DREAM

Thursday 24 and Friday 25 June
7.30pm – Ryan Theatre

Midsummer’s Eve, a forest filled with magic and misunderstanding, squabbling lovers and a group of actors putting on a play... Puck is up to tricks aplenty as he makes two Athenian suitors fall in love with the same girl. As they run through the forest, Puck also meddles in the fairy world by helping Oberon to play a trick on the fairy queen. Will everything be set right by the end of the play? Or are the Athenians destined to live in chaos and confusion forever? The Junior Rattigan Society presents Shakespeare’s best-loved comedy, directed by Alison O’Neill.

Tickets are required for all performances.
